

Trudy Sumslon grows her own clothes. She loves the process as much as the product, so she added spinning to her knitting skills. And now she raises her own sheep and prepares her own fleeces.